RE: Back to Business Grant Program Report

Dear Chairwoman Baskin and Honorable Members of the Legislature:

Please find attached a copy of the Back to Business Grant Report as prepared by 43North. The report outlines the unprecedented $20 million County grant program conducted in partnership with 43North to provide financial aid to our small businesses in their greatest time of need. The report contains a final and complete list of all grant recipients and an overall summary of the grant program. Specifically, the report includes important details like demographic data on awardees, criteria for eligibility, a scoring matrix detailing how applicants were scored and prioritized, a description of the verification check that was conducted prior to making awards, and a narrative of the process used by nearly 300 reviewers to evaluate the more than 5,000 applications that were received.

While the report provides the methodology employed by 43North to implement the priorities established in the Back to Business program, it is important to note that my administration established the program priorities. Establishing a set of priorities for the grant program was necessary for the simple reason that there was not enough money to fund all applicants. There is no better evidence of this than the grant program itself. The grant application period was open for just three short weeks and in that time, 43North received more than 5,000 applications totaling more than $95 million in requests. Simply put, Erie County could have used 100% of its Federal Coronavirus Relief Funds to support only small businesses and there still would likely not have been enough money.

Given the reality of insufficient funds, my administration used NEED as the guiding principle in establishing priorities. The need of any given business was assessed in multiple ways. The business's lost revenue, employment, production, and inventory as a direct result of the COVID-19 pandemic and not covered by any (or minimal) previous COVID aid, were primary factors in assessing need. Regional and national data and research documenting the disproportionate distribution of funds from the Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) and the disproportionate impact of COVID on certain types of businesses and industries were also used to determine the areas of greatest need, as was a racial equity lens, grounded in the overwhelming evidence of ongoing structural barriers minority business owners confront when accessing capital, especially in times of crises.

Some of this research is included below and is broken into three categories: the overall shortcomings of PPP particularly as it relates to the distribution of funds for minority and women owned businesses and those businesses in distressed zip codes; the disproportionate effect of the pandemic on minority and women owned businesses; and the disproportionate effect of the pandemic on businesses in certain industries, many of which are largely owned by women and minorities.

Local and National Shortcomings of the Paycheck Protection Program:

Local and national research shows that although the Federal Paycheck Protection Program succeeded in helping the national economy as a whole it failed in adequately helping minority and women owned businesses, including those in underserved areas and distressed zip codes. The shortcomings of PPP were especially evident in Erie County as outlined by numerous stories from local media. These include:

- “Report: PPP Loan Program Shortchanges Buffalo’s Black Neighborhoods,” Buffalo News, September 7, 2020. The article provides highlights of a report conducted by Accountable US Action entitled, “Buffalo: PPP Aid Was Inequitably Distributed in Buffalo.” The report says, “On April 3, 2020, the Small Business Administration (SBA) announced the Paycheck Protection Program (PPP), claiming it would ‘bring immediate economic relief and eight weeks of financial certainty to millions of small businesses and their employees.’ The Buffalo region has subsequently received 7,812 loans. But, tracking with a national trend, relief in the Buffalo region has not been equally distributed. Additionally, several bad actors made off with program funds.” Accountable.US, PPP at Six Months, [9/14/20; Buffalo News, 9/7/20]
- “Buffalo is emblematic of a PPP program that left too many communities behind, while enabling the wealthy and well-connected – no matter their record – to receive government money,” “An analysis of zip codes in the Buffalo region showed racial disparities where loans were awarded. The zip code with the largest African-American population in Buffalo received the smallest number of loans. Meanwhile, almost one-fifth of the total loans given out to the area went to a zip code with a 92.8-percent white population (and only 2-percent African American). These results mirror nationwide racial disparities in the disbursement of PPP funds.” Accountable.US, PPP at Six Months, [9/14/20]

- PPP Failed to Serve Undeserved Areas. “The Paycheck Protection Program didn’t require business owners to include race and gender information on their application. However, the legislation that authorized PPP asked federal officials to prioritize underserved areas, like minority and rural communities. That didn’t happen, according to the October Congressional report. It said the government ‘and many big banks failed to prioritize small businesses in underserved markets, including minority and women-owned businesses.’” Investigative Post, [12/17/20]
- “Firms left behind in quest for pandemic aid. Sole proprietorships and Black owned businesses received relatively little money. Experts recommend smarter targeting of loans if the program is extended.” Investigative Post, [12/17/20]
- “East Side obtained few loans. Comparatively little money was distributed to poorer neighborhoods, including those on Buffalo’s East Side. An analysis by Investigative Post of PPP loans in Western New York shows a big difference between those loans made to businesses in the predominantly white suburbs and those located in Buffalo’s East Side. The five suburban ZIP codes that received the most loans obtained a collective $522.5 million. The five ZIP Codes that comprise the East Side received $82.5 million.” Investigative Post, [12/17/20]

Numerous other reports show that the failures of PPP in supporting minority and women owned businesses were not just a reality in Buffalo and Erie County but were part of a national trend:

- “The US Department of Treasury privately encouraged banks to limit their PPP lending to existing customers, excluding many minority and women-owned businesses. Documents obtained by Congress’s Subcommittee on the Coronavirus Crisis report that, ‘Treasury Department privately told lenders to ‘go to their existing customer base’ when issuing PPP loans. Banks recognized this created ‘a heightened risk of disparate impact on minority and women-owned businesses,’ but many banks followed Treasury’s direction. In response to questions from Select Subcommittee staff, Treasury officials claimed inaccurately that the Department ‘never addressed anything about lenders prioritizing existing customers.’” U.S. House of Representatives Select Subcommittee on the Coronavirus Crisis, Staff Report, [October 2020]

- “SBA and Treasury failed to issue guidance prioritizing underserved markets, including minority and women-owned businesses. The Congressional Subcommittee also reported that, “SBA and Treasury did not issue any meaningful guidance to lenders to prioritize underserved markets as Congress urged in the CARES Act. Instead, SBA sent a vague tweet—immediately after the Select Subcommittee launched its investigation and just two weeks before the program expired—which lenders said had no impact on the program.” U.S. House of Representatives Select Subcommittee on the Coronavirus Crisis, Staff Report, [October 2020]

COVID-19’s Disproportionate Impact on Minority and Women Owned Businesses

Meanwhile, additional data documents that COVID-19 has disproportionately negatively affected minority and women owned businesses throughout the pandemic:

- “MWBEs were hit especially hard by the coronavirus pandemic. It’s not a good time to be a small-business owner in New York. Declining revenues and managing the costs of commercial rent, payroll and other expenses during the coronavirus pandemic have put the existence of many of these businesses at risk. But those challenges are even more acute for businesses owned by people of color and women. In fact, Black business ownership in New York fell by 70% from February to June. There were about 98,600 active Black-owned businesses in New York before the pandemic and there were only 29,479 as of June.” City and State NY, [8/5/20; Federal Reserve Bank of New York, August 2020]
- “Minority-owned businesses were in the industries most affected by COVID-19. The concentration of minority-owned small businesses in industries more susceptible to disruption makes a large share of them vulnerable to the pandemic. Service industries, including accommodation and food services, personal and laundry services, and retail, which have the highest share of minority-owned small businesses, could be the most highly disrupted in the near term. These services often require physical proximity to others and are less likely to be delivered remotely. And although the healthcare and social-assistance sector is less likely to see immediate net job loss and company closures, it is the industry most exposed to contracting the virus.” McKinsey & Company, [5/27/20]
- “Coronavirus Pandemic Hits Minority-Owned Small Businesses Disproportionately Hard, New Poll Shows. Minority-owned small businesses have been hit disproportionately hard due to the pandemic and corresponding economic crisis.

Minority-owned business owners are more likely than non-minority owners to report difficulty obtaining loans, express fears about permanently closing, and predict declining revenues in the coming year." The poll finds that, "two in three (66%) minority small businesses are concerned about having to permanently close their business versus 57% for non-minority small businesses." U.S. Chamber of Commerce, [8/4/20]

- "Poll Shows Coronavirus Pandemic Disproportionately Affecting Female-Owned Small Businesses. Female-owned small businesses have been disproportionately affected by the coronavirus pandemic and corresponding economic crisis, and they are now less likely to expect future revenue, investment and staffing growth. Female-owned small businesses are more likely than male-owned small businesses to report a significant decline in the overall health of their business since the start of the pandemic and less likely to report that they have added staff. Female-owned small businesses also lag behind when assessing investment plans, revenue projections, and staffing plans for the coming year, evidence that they do not anticipate recovering as quickly as their male counterparts." U.S. Chamber of Commerce, [8/26/20]
- "Women are disproportionately owners of foot-traffic-based companies,' such as salons, spas and retail establishments, said Sarah Gustafson, lead data scientist at Gusto, a company that provides payroll and benefit services to small businesses. 'What we saw is that female-owned businesses have had larger net losses in their headcounts than male-owned businesses.'" USA Today, [11/2/20]
- "Scared about the future: Female small-business owners face extra hurdles during pandemic shutdowns. The pandemic has been tough on women's careers. Mothers are stretched thin between work and the strain of child care as the majority of large school districts reopened with remote instruction this fall. Women who run small businesses face a unique set of stressors as the pandemic threatens the viability of their companies, as well as the nation's economic growth, experts said." USA Today, [11/2/20]

COVID-19's Disproportionate Impact on Certain Types of Industries

Additionally, certain types of industries faced greater challenges throughout the pandemic. Industries hardest hit include personal care services (salons and barber shops), restaurants and entertainment, as well as gyms.

- "Restaurants Remain Hardest Hit, Permanent and Temporary Closures Increase. The restaurant industry continues to be among the most impacted with an increasing number of closures – totaling 32,109 closures as of August 31, with 19,590 of these business closures indicated to be permanent (61%). Breakfast and brunch restaurants, burger joints, sandwich shops, dessert places and Mexican restaurants are among the types of restaurants with the highest rate of business closures. Foods that work well for delivery and takeout have been able to keep their closure rates lower than others, including pizza places, delis, food trucks, bakeries and coffee shops." Yelp: Local Economic Impact Report, [September 2020]

- Bars and Nightlife Businesses Hit Hard. "Meanwhile bars and nightlife, an industry 6X smaller than restaurants, has endured an especially high closure rate, with an increasing percentage of closures being permanent. As of the end of August there were 6,451 total business closures, of which 3,499 were permanently closed (54%). The share of permanent closures within bars and nightlife have increased by 10% since our Economic Average Report in July." Yelp: Local Economic Impact Report, [September 2020]
- "Retail and shopping follows closely behind restaurants with 30,374 total business closures, 17,503 of which are permanent (58%). Similar to bars and nightlife, the share of permanent closures increased by 10% since July. Both men and women's clothing, as well as home decor, have the highest rate of business closures." Yelp: Local Economic Impact Report, [September 2020]
- "The beauty industry has seen a 22% increase in closures since July, totaling 16,585 closures. Of all closed businesses in the beauty industry 7,002 won't reopen (42%), a significant 43% increase since July when Yelp reported that 4,897 of all closures in the beauty industry were permanent. Similarly the fitness industry has endured a 23% increase in closures since July, with 6,024 total closures, 2,616 of which are permanently closed." Yelp: Local Economic Impact Report, [September 2020]
- "Supermarkets and grocery stores are a bright spot. Local commerce platform, Womply, reports that, "in times of crisis some businesses are decimated while others are overrun. Supermarkets and grocery stores in New York have seen consistent year-over-year gains in 2020 as people stock up against potential long-term isolation scenarios." Womply, [12/17/20]

Industry	March to Oct. 13th	March to December 13th
Auto Services	14%	15%
Bars & Lounges	35%	46%
Food & Beverage Shops	21%	25%
Health & Beauty	36%	43%
Lodging Places	18%	19%
Parking Businesses	29%	27%
Quick Serve Food & Beverage	31%	32%
Restaurants	28%	33%
Retail & Wholesale	19%	23%
Sports and Recreation	45%	47%
Pet Services	9%	12%

[Womply, 12/18/20] An important note: Restaurants and other businesses who have shifted to processing 100% of their transactions via third party delivery apps (like Doordash, Grubhub, etc.) would also show as being “closed” by this metric.

Conclusion

With the national and local evidence mounting on the impacts of COVID-19 on small businesses, including the shortcomings of PPP, the areas of greatest need clearly emerged and the program priorities were developed accordingly. Minority and Women owned businesses, businesses that were located in distressed and highly distressed zip codes, those that lost revenue, employment, production, and inventory but did not receive any or limited amounts of PPP, and those in negatively affected industries were given priority.

As your honorable body reviews the report, you will see that grants were awarded in a manner consistent with the research and intended to provide some limited remedy to these disparities. A simple snapshot of the report shows that:

- 100% of awardees demonstrated losses in revenue, employment, production, or inventory from the COVID-19 pandemic and 80% of them demonstrated a loss of more than 25% of their annual revenue;
- 59% of grantees were women-owned businesses;
- 30% of grantees were minority owned business;

- Restaurants and food service businesses received the greatest number of grants, closely followed by salons and barber shops, and retail and consumer goods

In September 2019, my administration launched Live Well Erie (LWE), a comprehensive effort united around a single vision: the new Erie County leaves no one behind. Erie County applied the LWE vision when we used federal Coronavirus Relief Funds to support childcare providers, establish Virtual Learning Centers, and provide mortgage and rental assistance targeting the children and families with the greatest need. Here too, my administration sought to target those businesses with the greatest need and those already left behind by the shortcomings of Federal COVID related aid.

While Erie County was able to partially achieve this objective, I recognize our reach was limited—limited because the available resources were inadequate, the need was so great, and the crisis created by COVID was so deep. And, although another stimulus bill has just been passed, more needs to be done. Local government has the greatest proximity to businesses and families in need and understands their challenges best, but local government simply does not have the resources to help our residents and business owners rebound from the toll this virus has taken on their lives. As such, we must continue our advocacy efforts with federal officials for more resources.

As 2020 draws to a close, I hope you will join me in this advocacy for ongoing relief for small businesses in 2021. In the meantime, if you have questions about the Back to Business Grant program please feel free to contact Catherine Walsh, Legislative Liaison (Catherine.Walsh@erie.gov), who can help you find the information you need.

Very truly yours,

Erie County Back to Business Grant Program Process and Selection Report

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

43North was called on by Erie County to lend their expertise and administer a multimillion-dollar CARES Act Small Business grant program to disburse COVID-19 relief funds to Erie County-based small businesses. Based on organizational infrastructure and experience in application review and grant program administration, 43North was asked to serve as the administrative entity to collect and review applications, determine eligibility, oversee diligence, and ultimately award grants.

On September 18, 2020, 43North and Erie County held the first official meeting to discuss and establish the Erie County Back to Business Grant Program. Erie County made clear that the selection process would be driven by criteria set forth by Erie County but that they would not have any involvement or line of sight into the selection of specific businesses.

After solidifying an agreement between Erie County and 43North, both parties collaborated to develop the application questions, as well as build an outreach and review process to administer approximately $19.2 million in grants to small businesses throughout Erie County. Under $900,000 was utilized for executing the application process (platform/site hosting fees etc.), data security, diligence and administration. A general, estimated breakdown of expenditures is provided on page 21 and a final breakdown will be provided to Erie County early in the 2021 per the agreed upon contract between 43North and the County.

It was determined that Erie County-based small businesses with 50 or fewer employees, with revenue between $10,000 and $7.5 million in 2019, and those showing significant losses due to the COVID pandemic could be eligible to receive a grant. Erie County also established selection criteria, and a scoring system that would prioritize businesses based on need, ranking higher for businesses in distressed zip codes, those owned by a minority or woman, those that did not receive PPP or lost more in revenue than they received in aid, those demonstrating revenue lost due to COVID, those that were unable to open during the pandemic closure, and those owned by veterans with a service-connected disability.

On October 13, the grant program officially launched via a press conference and was open for application submission at www.BackToBizGrants.org. This coincided with the launch of a fully integrated marketing campaign that included Direct Mail, TV, Radio, and Digital advertising as well as a community relations effort. The goal of the broad-reaching marketing campaign was to make any and all small businesses in Erie County negatively impacted by the COVID crisis aware of the grant program during the three-week application window, including businesses with systematic and structural barriers to accessing to these types of programs

Erie County Back to Business Grant Program Process and Selection Report

The community relations effort which had street team ambassadors canvassing neighborhoods, touched nearly every corner of Erie County, dropping information at small businesses, posting lawn signs, and circulating a mobile billboard. This effort also included the development and distribution of materials (signage, flyers etc.) and coordination of resources (i.e., physical application assistance centers like the Amherst Chamber of Commerce, Beverly Gray and the SUNY Buffalo SBDC) to inform individuals, businesses and organizations of the program and assist with application submission.

Based on a budget determined by Erie County, 43North spent $248,000 in direct advertising costs to execute the campaign, handling the bulk of the marketing work in-house. These funds and additional media purchased by Visit Buffalo Niagara were NOT part of the $20 million for the grant program but came as part of a separate Back to Business initiative that focused on customer and business outreach. A general expenditure breakdown of the marketing efforts is included on page 20.

Applications closed on November 2 with 5,022 completed applications. From there, an extensive multi-phased review process, that included both manual and automated evaluation techniques, was conducted by the 43North team and hired certified consultants, as well as trained volunteers from M&T Bank, Ernst & Young, and the Buffalo Urban League Young Professionals.

Upon completion, 2,882 applications were deemed eligible with 1,399 businesses awarded over $19 million in funding. Individuals were notified via email, and sent a check to their place of business via certified mail. Additional resources were provided to ensure grantees understand the eligible uses of funds, as well as how to appropriately document these expenses for the possibility of a future audit.

It should be noted that program administrators went to extensive lengths to distribute as many grants as possible while ensuring the amounts could create a meaningful impact (based on reported losses). To extend the reach of the funds while still providing impactful grants, during the review process the decision was made to award grants in seven different funding amounts. In addition, some partial grants were given to businesses to ensure businesses with the exact same score and criteria could all be awarded some amount of funding.

The comprehensive list of grant recipients, as well as demographic information on the grantee pool can be found in the attached appendix. Below are a few highlights from grantee pool to demonstrate the impact and results of this program.

ELIGIBILITY, REVIEW PROCESS, AND SELECTION DETAILS

Outlined below are specific details relative to grant program eligibility criteria along with an in-depth account of each round of review including the verification check diligence phase.

This section also details the scoring process and need-based prioritization that was implemented to determine grant recipients. The review process consisted of multiple phases, with each phase focusing on whether or not an applicant was eligible to receive the grant and submitted sufficient documentation to prove that. Reviewers in each round were not asked to “pick winners” or judge businesses against one another, but to simply determine eligibility for the grant.

Once eligibility was determined, verification checks were performed, businesses that passed verification were scored and then ranked by score. Those with the highest scores received funds.

Eligibility

To be considered eligible to apply, companies meet the following criteria:

Business Type: For-profit businesses (Sole Proprietorships, LLCs, LLPs, C-Corps, and S-Corps)

Year Established: Formally established and in continuous operation since at least Oct. 1, 2019

Location: Based in Erie County, NY; company Owner/CEO and 90% of staff must be located in the region

Revenue: Generated less than $7.5M in revenue but more than $10k over the course of 2019

Employees: 50 or fewer W-2 based FTEs (Consultants and 1099s do not count towards this total)

Need: Must be able to provide evidence of a significant loss of revenue, and a reduced level of production, sales, employment, or service due to COVID

Taxes: Businesses must be current on their State, Local and Federal taxes

Ineligible Businesses

Businesses considered ineligible:

- Residential and/or commercial real estate
- Investment vehicles/firms
- Illegal businesses
- Chains or franchises

06	ROUND 3 REVIEW	Final eligibility check before grant issuance

02 Step 2: ROUND ONE REVIEW

The Round One reviews consisted of 293 reviewers, which included business executives from across Western New York who had previously served as 43North reviewers, as well as volunteers from Ernst & Young, M&T Bank, Buffalo Urban League Young Professionals, and the Buffalo State Small Business Development Center. Reviewers were selected based on their experience working with the small business community, reviewing business financials and assessing legitimacy. Individuals were required to attend a mandatory training session to go over eligibility of the grant, how to use the reviewing platform, and to discuss reviewing ethics, and cultural competency. Additional training materials were provided via email, and reviewers were required to sign both conflict of interest forms, as well as confidentiality forms to ensure all conflicts would be reported and all confidential information reviewed would remain so. Reviewers signed into a portal to review applications.

Reviewers were required to check each of their assigned applications (no more than 20) to ensure applicants provided the proper documentation to prove their eligibility for the grant.

Erie County Back to Business Grant Program Process and Selection Report

Reviewers were asked to consider the following checklist for each applicant:

Reviewing Checklist (Eligibility)

1. Company Name - you will find this in the Part B - Company Profile section of the application
2. Name of the Owner - you will find this in the Part B - Company Profile section of the application
3. Industry - This is helpful for context. What kind of business is it? Is it an eligible type?
4. Number of Employees - For this grant, we are looking at FTEs (full-time equivalents). It determines how much money they can apply for. Given the revenue for the business is the number of employees listed reasonable?
5. 2019 Revenue - It needs to be over $10,000, but under $7.5 million.
6. COVID Impact - Ensure the applicant has reported a significant loss of revenue, a reduced level of production, sales, employment, or service due to the COVID-19 pandemic.
7. Drivers License - Quick check to make sure it matches the name of the applicant/owner.
8. Proof of Business - DBA + Schedule C (see below), LLC filing, Articles of Incorporation, Department of State filing – Ensure document is legitimate, the business was established prior to October 1, 2020 and the name on the document matches the company name.
9. Tax Return -The application must contain a 2019 business tax return (1040C, 1065, 1120, 1120S). Check the revenue and make sure it matches the revenue in the application. Make sure the name of the business matches, as well as the EIN. For Sole Proprietors, they may file under their Social Security number if they do not have employees. They must provide a copy of their Schedule C to verify business income.
10. W9 - Make sure the W9 is filled out, a box is checked for the appropriate entity type, and the name and address match the application.

Upon consideration of an application, Reviewers were asked to select whether an applicant should move onto the next round of reviews, required additional information or documentation, or was blatantly ineligible or fraudulent.

Step 3: ROUND TWO REVIEW

Approximately 40 percent of the Round One applications were sent to Round Two reviews as they required additional evaluation or documentation. The rest were either denied or moved on to the next round, directly. Reasons reviewers selected 'discussion required' include:

- Inconsistencies in the application
- Missing documentation

Erie County Back to Business Grant Program Process and Selection Report

Round Two reviewers were 43North employees or contractors, many of whom were licensed Certified Public Accountants and finance specialists. The team was managed, in part, by a former Ernst & Young partner, who helped to develop policies and procedures on what information was collected and how to determine if an applicant provided sufficient proof to meet eligibility requirements.

- Secondary reviews resulted in:
 - Contacting applicants to fill gaps in applications
 - Visiting the business to verify application information
 - Requesting additional proof of employee counts (i.e NYS-45 forms)
 - Requesting appropriate tax forms when the wrong form was submitted
 - Requesting proof of veteran status
 - Assessing whether or not the business met the “mandated closed” standard set in New York State at the time of the application

04

Step 4: VERIFICATION CHECKS

All applications were concurrently sent to EvidentID for verification. Applicants were approved if their verification check did not contain any of the below issues. Due to privacy concerns and the Fair Credit Reporting Act, 43North only received information on whether applicants passed or failed. This information is considered private and confidential.

1. Business Civil Policy Violations - The business was found to have a violation in one of the following categories:
 - Breach of Contract
 - Breach of Warranty
 - Deceptive Trade Practice
 - Negligence
 - Racketeering
 - Temporary Restraining Orders
 - Wrongful Death
 - Copyright Infringement

2. EIN Validation Failure - This is a verification of the EIN number they provided us along with the business name that was provided. Either the EIN did not exist in its entirety or the EIN provided and the business name did not match the records on hand. Applicants were given an opportunity to correct these issues via email. This same process was also used to verify businesses that use the owner’s Social Security Number as their Tax ID.

Erie County Back to Business Grant Program Process and Selection Report

- 3. Criminal Violation: the individual submitting the application had a violation that matched the criteria provided by Erie County. Applicants were only denied on this basis for crimes matching the below items. 43North and Erie County do not have access to the reasons an individual may have failed, nor do they keep any records of these reports.
- Severe sexual crimes such as rape
 - Homicide
 - Fraud of any kind (mail fraud, credit fraud, check fraud, welfare fraud, embezzlement, etc.)
 - Human trafficking
 - Crimes against children
- 4. Risk Signals
- Multiple bankruptcies and/or liens, orders, and judgments against the business that are in the public domain

05

Step 5: GRANT PRIORITIZATION SUMMARY

After three rounds of reviews to determine eligibility detailed above, 2,882 applications were deemed eligible, and 2,140 applications were deemed ineligible, including 777 based on verification failure. Eligible applicants were then automatically scored based on a system developed by Erie County prior to launch to prioritize applicants according to need.

All applications started with a score of 0 and gained or lost points based on the following criteria with the highest possible score of 90 and the lowest possible score of -30. Applicants who received PPP reduced their score by ten, and they lost an additional ten points if the PPP amount they received met or exceeded their total losses. Applicants in highly distressed and distressed zip codes increased their score by 25 or 20 depending on which zip code their business is located in. Applicants who identify as a minority-owned business increased their score by 25, and applicants who identify as a woman-owned business increased their score by 20. Applicants who lost less than 25 percent of their total revenue lost ten points and in some industries were denied outright. Applicants who are veterans with a service-connected disability increased their score by 10. Applicants that were still mandated to be closed at the time of the application, such as movie theatres, and family entertainment centers, increased their score by 10.

Grants were given out to all eligible applicants with a score of 5 or more. Applications with a score of zero received grants if they fit into these categories: restaurants, retail & consumer goods, spas & salons, and gyms & fitness, or if they lost more than 50 percent of their revenue due to COVID and did not receive other aid. These applicants were given partial grants, so that 43North did not have to make selections between applicants with the exact same answers to questions. Other applicants with a score of zero that did not fit in any of the above categories, or any applications scored lower than zero were not funded at this time for a total of 1,486 unfunded but eligible applications, 490 of which did not demonstrate a significant need.

Step 6: REVIEW ROUND THREE

Following the prioritization, applications underwent the third review from 43North employees and CPAs to ensure no eligibility issues were missed during the first two rounds of review before checks were issued. If an application contained an eligibility issue at this stage - the President, Vice President, Chief Financial Officer, and an outside consultant Certified Public Accountant jointly discussed each case and made the final determination on whether that issue constitutes ineligibility. These decisions were solely based on whether or not an applicant was eligible according to the criteria and policy set by Erie County articulated in this report.

GRANT AMOUNTS

Grant amounts were determined by the business' number of full-time equivalents (FTEs) and overall revenue. Some grantees received partial grants to ensure the full number of businesses in a particular category received funds, and thus no instances of deciding between businesses with the exact same specifications would occur. These grantees were notified that their grant was considered partial for this reason.

Erie County Back to Business Grant Program Process and Selection Report

CONCLUSION

In closing, 43North is grateful for the opportunity to lend our expertise to support the entrepreneurial ecosystem, providing $19.2 million in grants to 1,399 local, small businesses during an unprecedented global pandemic. The organization was uniquely positioned to provide this support to Erie County and honored to support the business community in this time of need. Applicant submissions and requests for funds from the Erie County Back to Business Grant Program make evident that despite this program's success with the disbursement of 1,399 grant awards, the need for more relief funds remain as the demand for funding through this program far outweighed the monies that could be provided. This concludes the Erie County Back to Business Grantee Overview and Protocol document.
